Note 1: The SafetyLit website has been down much of this week. My apologies to all. We should continue to have intermittent unavailability for the next few days but we should have completed the installation of a much more robust server by 20 October.

Note 2. We changed the service that processes donations by credit card. Our previous service charged us fees that continued to increase. We are now using PayPal. Those of you from the USA who wish to donate please consider writing a check. Those of you from outside the USA who wish to donate: (unlike our previous card service group) any and all currency conversion fees will be paid by SafetyLit.
